

THE NEWSLETTER OF THE SHERLOCK HOLMES SOCIETY OF LONDON

Holly Turner, 2 Castle Hill, Ebbesbourne Wake, Salisbury SP5 5JU

e-mail: district.messenger.shsl@gmail.com

No. 439 February 2024

As you will have seen from Catherine's announcement in January, Jean Upton has stepped down after six years as editor of this newsletter. Hers are big shoes to fill, and I will certainly try my best. I would like to thank Jean and Roger Johnson very much for all their help and guidance with getting set up. Please bear with me whilst I continue to get to grips with everything!

A gentle reminder that all members can now register themselves on the society's membership management system, Mycroft. This enables you to review and update your details, and even to add a photo to your profile if you so wish. If you have not already done so, you can join the platform by going to <https://members.sherlock-holmes.org.uk/login>.

The email subscription project Letters from Watson is covering the Sherlock Holmes novels this year. A Study in Scarlet started on 6th January and will run until 10th March. The Sign of Four will begin at the start of April. Emails consist of each chapter separately and are released every 4 days. You can subscribe to the mailing list at <https://lettersfromwatson.substack.com/>.

Kyle Gallagher's play The Man in the Shadows: An Original Telling of Sherlock Holmes will have its world premiere at the Halifax Playhouse in Halifax, West Yorkshire. Seven years into their partnership, Holmes and Watson learn about the Man in the Shadows. With help from Inspector Lestrade, they begin to unravel the mystery in front of them, fighting their own demons alongside the case. The play will be showing Monday 5th – Friday 9th February. You can find further information on their website <http://www.halifaxplayhouse.org.uk/>

The Baker Street Irregulars have made recordings of the BSI Trust Lectures available online for free. You can access the catalogue on their website <http://www.bsitrust.org/2023/12/bsi-trust-lectures.html>.

On 11th January the ACD Society presented its Annual Doylean Honors Awards at The Mysterious Bookshop in New York. Honours were presented in four categories – Scholarly Writing, Fiction and Poetry, Visual Arts, and Lifetime Service. The honourees in the Scholarly Writing category were Emily Alder for the article Arctic Ghosts: Whale Hunting and Haunting in Arthur Conan Doyle's "The Captain of the Pole-Star" in the Victorian Studies journal; Douglas Kerr for the article Arthur Conan Doyle, Eugenics, and the Hand of God in the Literature & History journal; and Sylvia A. Pamboukian for the chapter Dying Game: Unrepentant Outlaws in Christie and Doyle in her book Agatha Christie and the Guilty Pleasure of Poison. In the Fiction and Poetry category, those honoured were Derrick Belanger for the short story The Joyce-Armstrong Confession in the Steel True, Blade Straight 2023 journal; David Marcum for the short story Fate's Brushes in the same publication; and Lee Murray for the short story Māoriland Blue in The Terror of Blue John Gap Project (ACD Society 2023). Vincent Mallié was honoured in the Visual Arts category for his illustrations in the graphic novel adaptation of The First Adventure of Sherlock Holmes: A Study in Scarlet. The recipient of the Lifetime Service award was Brian Pugh, author of, amongst other things, A Chronology of the Life of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle: May 22nd 1859 to July 7th 1930. Congratulations to all the honourees. You can view the entire ceremony on the Doings of Doyle YouTube channel, where the recording will be posted no later than 21st January.

Absentee bids are being accepted for a selection of Doyle-related lots at Potter & Potter Auctions in Chicago. The sale begins on 15th February. For more information, see their website.

<https://auctions.potterauctions.com/Catalog.aspx?auctionid=1174>

In other auction news, some items belonging to the late Douglas Wilmer are to be auctioned by Reeman Dansie, Colchester. Viewing commences 9th February, with the sale itself to be held over three days (13th – 14th February). Of particular interest to Society members is Lot 978, a collection of personal letters from HRH Charles III to Douglas Wilmer and his widow. There is no other information as yet as to which the other lots of interest will be. You can find more information by visiting their website.

<https://www.reemandansie.com/news-item/sherlock-holmes-returns/?pc=688>

Anyone looking for a knitting challenge might fancy having a go at this rather stylish Sherlock Holmes jumper. The featured motifs are all inspired by Holmes stories. The pattern is described as unisex.

https://www.ravelry.com/patterns/library/sherlock-holmes-sweater?set=&_rfoff=1

The podcast Sherlock & Co now has a Patreon, where it is possible to sign up to support them with monthly payments at three different tiers, giving a range of rewards. To find out more and to sign up, head to <https://www.patreon.com/sherlockandco>

A Sherlockian short film is being worked on by French director Nathan Bres. It is titled The Myth of Whitechapel and follows the origins of Sherlock Holmes and Dr Watson. As they lead their first investigation together, the difficulties they face in building their reputation as detectives bring them closer together. Taking place in Whitechapel in 1881, the story blurs the frontier between reality and the supernatural. The project is supported by the Société Sherlock Holmes de France and is currently seeking crowdfunding on Kickstarter at <https://www.kickstarter.com/projects/nathanbres/sherlock-holmes-the-myth-of-whitechapel-short-film>

Marcus Lynch is hoping to sell a number of bound issues of The Strand Magazine inherited from his grandfather. He says that the bindings are in pretty poor condition, but the pages inside are all very good, so this may be of particular interest to anyone who enjoys bookbinding. There are some Sherlock Holmes stories contained within the collection, and he believes these were published before Conan Doyle had a 'proper' book publishing contract. If interested, Mr Lynch can be contacted at mamlynch@mac.com

Sherlock Holmes and the Whitechapel Fiend is showing at Barn Theatre in Cirencester 29th January – 9th March. The play is described as 'a hilarious mix of Basil Rathbone, What We Do In The Shadows and The Thirty-Nine Steps, combined with the style of Netflix True Crime documentaries'. For more information and to book go to <https://barntheatre.org.uk/sherlock-holmes>

Kelvin Jones has passed on the news that his local antiquarian book dealer, Jack Ryder, has a complete set of the first 14 volumes of The Strand Magazine (1891 – 1897), containing the complete Adventures and Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes, as well as other Conan Doyle material. The books are leather bound and in extremely good condition – beautifully tight binding with very good leather covers. Jack estimates they are worth about £20 each and would ideally like to sell them as a set. Anyone interested in purchasing these volumes should phone 07889 865882, or write to Jack Ryder Books, 10 Pike Street, Liskeard, Cornwall, PL14 3JE.

Books of Interest

Stefano Guerra, BSI, and Enrico Solito, BSI, have written a new book, The Adventures of Mary Morstan Watson, available both in Italian and English. The story is written from Mary's point of view, beginning with The Sign of Four as seen through her eyes, and unfolding through her subsequent adventures. Mary uses her own innate intelligence and techniques learned by observing Holmes at work to solve problems.

Clutches of a Fiend is the latest volume in the BSI Manuscripts series, being a facsimile of the original manuscript of The Illustrious Client. The volume is edited and features an introduction from Steven T. Doyle, BSI. A detailed account of the manuscript's history is included, as well as essays covering such themes as chronology, legal implications, sex and violence on screen, psychoanalysis and hypnosis.

Sherlock Holmes and the British Empire is a report of the BSI's Empire conference of July 2022. The volume is edited by Ross E. Davies, BSI, and provides a detailed record of all the presentations and programming, along with many colour photos.

A West Wind: How America and Americans Influenced the Sherlockian Canon is a volume of essays from the BSI providing an examination of the reciprocal impact and influence of American culture and history with Conan Doyle and the Canon. Topics discussed include criminal culture and law enforcement, the Civil War, and the legacy of Holmes in the entertainment industry. The volume is edited by Thomas Horrocks, Ph.D., BSI, and Ray Betzner, BSI.

Editor's Alternative Reading Recommendation

A series of stories exploring Holmes's tendency to not speak for stretches of time as an autistic response are available on the website Archive of Our Own <https://archiveofourown.org/series/3364168>. The series is sensitively written and comes highly recommended. The author is a BSL user, so the signs included are authentic.

Periodicals Received:

The Cri Bar Crier, January 2024, Volume 29, No. 2 (Newsletter of the Criterion Bar Association of Chicago, Ruth Goehmann; rjgoehmann@aol.com)

Papers On the Sundial, January 2024 and December 2023 (Wanda Dow; ha10tot@verizon.net)

Scuttlebutt from the Spermaceti Press, January 2024 (Peter Blau; <https://redcircledc.org/index.php?id=39>)

So Far Down Queer Street, Autumn 2023 (Inspector(ess); sofardownqueerstreet@gmail.com)

Timelines, January 2024 (Brad Keefauver; bkeefauver@gmail.com)

Holly Turner

THE NEWSLETTER OF THE SHERLOCK HOLMES SOCIETY OF LONDON

Holly Turner, 2 Castle Hill, Ebbesbourne Wake, Salisbury SP5 5JU

e-mail: district.messenger.shsl@gmail.com

No. 439 February 2024

As you will have seen from Catherine's announcement in January, Jean Upton has stepped down after six years as editor of this newsletter. Hers are big shoes to fill, and I will certainly try my best. I would like to thank Jean and Roger Johnson very much for all their help and guidance with getting set up. Please bear with me whilst I continue to get to grips with everything!

A gentle reminder that all members can now register themselves on the society's membership management system, Mycroft. This enables you to review and update your details, and even to add a photo to your profile if you so wish. If you have not already done so, you can join the platform by going to <https://members.sherlock-holmes.org.uk/login>.

The email subscription project Letters from Watson is covering the Sherlock Holmes novels this year. A Study in Scarlet started on 6th January and will run until 10th March. The Sign of Four will begin at the start of April. Emails consist of each chapter separately and are released every 4 days. You can subscribe to the mailing list at <https://lettersfromwatson.substack.com/>.

Kyle Gallagher's play The Man in the Shadows: An Original Telling of Sherlock Holmes will have its world premiere at the Halifax Playhouse in Halifax, West Yorkshire. Seven years into their partnership, Holmes and Watson learn about the Man in the Shadows. With help from Inspector Lestrade, they begin to unravel the mystery in front of them, fighting their own demons alongside the case. The play will be showing Monday 5th – Friday 9th February. You can find further information on their website <http://www.halifaxplayhouse.org.uk/>

The Baker Street Irregulars have made recordings of the BSI Trust Lectures available online for free. You can access the catalogue on their website <http://www.bsitrust.org/2023/12/bsi-trust-lectures.html>.

On 11th January the ACD Society presented its Annual Doylean Honors Awards at The Mysterious Bookshop in New York. Honours were presented in four categories – Scholarly Writing, Fiction and Poetry, Visual Arts, and Lifetime Service. The honourees in the Scholarly Writing category were Emily Alder for the article Arctic Ghosts: Whale Hunting and Haunting in Arthur Conan Doyle's "The Captain of the Pole-Star" in the Victorian Studies journal; Douglas Kerr for the article Arthur Conan Doyle, Eugenics, and the Hand of God in the Literature & History journal; and Sylvia A. Pamboukian for the chapter Dying Game: Unrepentant Outlaws in Christie

and Doyle in her book Agatha Christie and the Guilty Pleasure of Poison. In the Fiction and Poetry category, those honoured were Derrick Belanger for the short story The Joyce-Armstrong Confession in the Steel True, Blade Straight 2023 journal; David Marcum for the short story Fate's Brushes in the same publication; and Lee Murray for the short story Māoriland Blue in The Terror of Blue John Gap Project (ACD Society 2023). Vincent Mallié was honoured in the Visual Arts category for his illustrations in the graphic novel adaptation of The First Adventure of Sherlock Holmes: A Study in Scarlet. The recipient of the Lifetime Service award was Brian Pugh, author of, amongst other things, A Chronology of the Life of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle: May 22nd 1859 to July 7th 1930. Congratulations to all the honourees. You can view the entire ceremony on the Doings of Doyle YouTube channel, where the recording will be posted no later than 21st January.

Absentee bids are being accepted for a selection of Doyle-related lots at Potter & Potter Auctions in Chicago. The sale begins on 15th February. For more information, see their website.

<https://auctions.potterauctions.com/Catalog.aspx?auctionid=1174>

In other auction news, some items belonging to the late Douglas Wilmer are to be auctioned by Reeman Dansie, Colchester. Viewing commences 9th February, with the sale itself to be held over three days (13th – 14th February). Of particular interest to Society members is Lot 978, a collection of personal letters from HRH Charles III to Douglas Wilmer and his widow. There is no other information as yet as to which the other lots of interest will be. You can find more information by visiting their website.

<https://www.reemandansie.com/news-item/sherlock-holmes-returns/?pc=688>

Anyone looking for a knitting challenge might fancy having a go at this rather stylish Sherlock Holmes jumper. The featured motifs are all inspired by Holmes stories. The pattern is described as unisex.

https://www.ravelry.com/patterns/library/sherlock-holmes-sweater?set=&_rfoff=1

The podcast Sherlock & Co now has a Patreon, where it is possible to sign up to support them with monthly payments at three different tiers, giving a range of rewards. To find out more and to sign up, head to <https://www.patreon.com/sherlockandco>

A Sherlockian short film is being worked on by French director Nathan Bres. It is titled The Myth of Whitechapel and follows the origins of Sherlock Holmes and Dr Watson. As they lead their first investigation together, the difficulties they face in building their reputation as detectives bring them closer together. Taking place in Whitechapel in 1881, the story blurs the frontier between reality and the supernatural. The project is supported by the Société Sherlock Holmes de France and is currently seeking crowdfunding on Kickstarter at <https://www.kickstarter.com/projects/nathanbres/sherlock-holmes-the-myth-of-whitechapel-short-film>

Marcus Lynch is hoping to sell a number of bound issues of The Strand Magazine inherited from his grandfather. He says that the bindings are in pretty poor condition, but the pages inside are all very good, so this may be of particular interest to anyone who enjoys bookbinding. There are some Sherlock Holmes stories contained within the collection, and he believes these were published before Conan Doyle had a 'proper' book publishing contract. If interested, Mr Lynch can be contacted at mamlynch@mac.com

Sherlock Holmes and the Whitechapel Fiend is showing at Barn Theatre in Cirencester 29th January – 9th March. The play is described as 'a hilarious mix of Basil Rathbone, What We Do In The Shadows and The Thirty-Nine Steps, combined with the style of Netflix True Crime documentaries'. For more information and to book go to <https://barntheatre.org.uk/sherlock-holmes>

Kelvin Jones has passed on the news that his local antiquarian book dealer, Jack Ryder, has a complete set of the first 14 volumes of The Strand Magazine (1891 – 1897), containing the complete Adventures and Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes, as well as other Conan Doyle material. The books are leather bound and in extremely good condition – beautifully tight binding with very good leather covers. Jack estimates they are worth about £20 each and would ideally like to sell them as a set. Anyone interested in purchasing these volumes should phone 07889 865882, or write to Jack Ryder Books, 10 Pike Street, Liskeard, Cornwall, PL14 3JE.

Books of Interest

Stefano Guerra, BSI, and Enrico Solito, BSI, have written a new book, The Adventures of Mary Morstan Watson, available both in Italian and English. The story is written from Mary's point of view, beginning with The Sign of Four as seen through her eyes, and unfolding through her subsequent adventures. Mary uses her own innate intelligence and techniques learned by observing Holmes at work to solve problems.

Clutches of a Fiend is the latest volume in the BSI Manuscripts series, being a facsimile of the original manuscript of The Illustrious Client. The volume is edited and features an introduction from Steven T. Doyle, BSI. A detailed account of the manuscript's history is included, as well as essays covering such themes as chronology, legal implications, sex and violence on screen, psychoanalysis and hypnosis.

Sherlock Holmes and the British Empire is a report of the BSI's Empire conference of July 2022. The volume is edited by Ross E. Davies, BSI, and provides a detailed record of all the presentations and programming, along with many colour photos.

A West Wind: How America and Americans Influenced the Sherlockian Canon is a volume of essays from the BSI providing an examination of the reciprocal impact and influence of American culture and history with Conan Doyle and the Canon. Topics discussed include criminal culture and law enforcement, the Civil War, and the legacy of Holmes in the entertainment industry. The volume is edited by Thomas Horrocks, Ph.D., BSI, and Ray Betzner, BSI.

Editor's Alternative Reading Recommendation

A series of stories exploring Holmes's tendency to not speak for stretches of time as an autistic response are available on the website Archive of Our Own <https://archiveofourown.org/series/3364168>. The series is sensitively written and comes highly recommended. The author is a BSL user, so the signs included are authentic.

Periodicals Received:

The Cri Bar Crier, January 2024, Volume 29, No. 2 (Newsletter of the Criterion Bar Association of Chicago, Ruth Goehmann; rjgoehmann@aol.com)

Papers On the Sundial, January 2024 and December 2023 (Wanda Dow; ha10tot@verizon.net)

Scuttlebutt from the Spermaceti Press, January 2024 (Peter Blau; <https://redcircledc.org/index.php?id=39>)

So Far Down Queer Street, Autumn 2023 (Inspector(ess); sofardownqueerstreet@gmail.com)

Timelines, January 2024 (Brad Keefauver; bkeefauver@gmail.com)

Holly Turner

THE NEWSLETTER OF THE SHERLOCK HOLMES SOCIETY OF LONDON

Holly Turner, 2 Castle Hill, Ebbesbourne Wake, Salisbury SP5 5JU

e-mail: district.messenger.shsl@gmail.com

No. 439 February 2024

As you will have seen from Catherine's announcement in January, Jean Upton has stepped down after six years as editor of this newsletter. Hers are big shoes to fill, and I will certainly try my best. I would like to thank Jean and Roger Johnson very much for all their help and guidance with getting set up. Please bear with me whilst I continue to get to grips with everything!

A gentle reminder that all members can now register themselves on the society's membership management system, Mycroft. This enables you to review and update your details, and even to add a photo to your profile if you so wish. If you have not already done so, you can join the platform by going to <https://members.sherlock-holmes.org.uk/login>.

The email subscription project Letters from Watson is covering the Sherlock Holmes novels this year. A Study in Scarlet started on 6th January and will run until 10th March. The Sign of Four will begin at the start of April. Emails consist of each chapter separately and are released every 4 days. You can subscribe to the mailing list at <https://lettersfromwatson.substack.com/>.

Kyle Gallagher's play The Man in the Shadows: An Original Telling of Sherlock Holmes will have its world premiere at the Halifax Playhouse in Halifax, West Yorkshire. Seven years into their partnership, Holmes and Watson learn about the Man in the Shadows. With help from Inspector Lestrade, they begin to unravel the mystery in front of them, fighting their own demons alongside the case. The play will be showing Monday 5th – Friday 9th February. You can find further information on their website <http://www.halifaxplayhouse.org.uk/>

The Baker Street Irregulars have made recordings of the BSI Trust Lectures available online for free. You can access the catalogue on their website <http://www.bsitrust.org/2023/12/bsi-trust-lectures.html>.

On 11th January the ACD Society presented its Annual Doylean Honors Awards at The Mysterious Bookshop in New York. Honours were presented in four categories – Scholarly Writing, Fiction and Poetry, Visual Arts, and Lifetime Service. The honourees in the Scholarly Writing category were Emily Alder for the article Arctic Ghosts: Whale Hunting and Haunting in Arthur Conan Doyle's "The Captain of the Pole-Star" in the Victorian Studies journal; Douglas Kerr for the article Arthur Conan Doyle, Eugenics, and the Hand of God in the Literature & History journal; and Sylvia A. Pamboukian for the chapter Dying Game: Unrepentant Outlaws in Christie

and Doyle in her book Agatha Christie and the Guilty Pleasure of Poison. In the Fiction and Poetry category, those honoured were Derrick Belanger for the short story The Joyce-Armstrong Confession in the Steel True, Blade Straight 2023 journal; David Marcum for the short story Fate's Brushes in the same publication; and Lee Murray for the short story Māoriland Blue in The Terror of Blue John Gap Project (ACD Society 2023). Vincent Mallié was honoured in the Visual Arts category for his illustrations in the graphic novel adaptation of The First Adventure of Sherlock Holmes: A Study in Scarlet. The recipient of the Lifetime Service award was Brian Pugh, author of, amongst other things, A Chronology of the Life of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle: May 22nd 1859 to July 7th 1930. Congratulations to all the honourees. You can view the entire ceremony on the Doings of Doyle YouTube channel, where the recording will be posted no later than 21st January.

Absentee bids are being accepted for a selection of Doyle-related lots at Potter & Potter Auctions in Chicago. The sale begins on 15th February. For more information, see their website.

<https://auctions.potterauctions.com/Catalog.aspx?auctionid=1174>

In other auction news, some items belonging to the late Douglas Wilmer are to be auctioned by Reeman Dansie, Colchester. Viewing commences 9th February, with the sale itself to be held over three days (13th – 14th February). Of particular interest to Society members is Lot 978, a collection of personal letters from HRH Charles III to Douglas Wilmer and his widow. There is no other information as yet as to which the other lots of interest will be. You can find more information by visiting their website.

<https://www.reemandansie.com/news-item/sherlock-holmes-returns/?pc=688>

Anyone looking for a knitting challenge might fancy having a go at this rather stylish Sherlock Holmes jumper. The featured motifs are all inspired by Holmes stories. The pattern is described as unisex.

<https://www.ravelry.com/patterns/library/sherlock-holmes-sweater?set=&rfoff=1>

The podcast Sherlock & Co now has a Patreon, where it is possible to sign up to support them with monthly payments at three different tiers, giving a range of rewards. To find out more and to sign up, head to <https://www.patreon.com/sherlockandco>

A Sherlockian short film is being worked on by French director Nathan Bres. It is titled The Myth of Whitechapel and follows the origins of Sherlock Holmes and Dr Watson. As they lead their first investigation together, the difficulties they face in building their reputation as detectives bring them closer together. Taking place in Whitechapel in 1881, the story blurs the frontier between reality and the supernatural. The project is supported by the Société Sherlock Holmes de France and is currently seeking crowdfunding on Kickstarter at <https://www.kickstarter.com/projects/nathanbres/sherlock-holmes-the-myth-of-whitechapel-short-film>

Marcus Lynch is hoping to sell a number of bound issues of The Strand Magazine inherited from his grandfather. He says that the bindings are in pretty poor condition, but the pages inside are all very good, so this may be of particular interest to anyone who enjoys bookbinding. There are some Sherlock Holmes stories contained within the collection, and he believes these were published before Conan Doyle had a 'proper' book publishing contract. If interested, Mr Lynch can be contacted at mamlynch@mac.com

Sherlock Holmes and the Whitechapel Fiend is showing at Barn Theatre in Cirencester 29th January – 9th March. The play is described as 'a hilarious mix of Basil Rathbone, What We Do In The Shadows and The Thirty-Nine Steps, combined with the style of Netflix True Crime documentaries'. For more information and to book go to <https://barntheatre.org.uk/sherlock-holmes>

Kelvin Jones has passed on the news that his local antiquarian book dealer, Jack Ryder, has a complete set of the first 14 volumes of The Strand Magazine (1891 – 1897), containing the complete Adventures and Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes, as well as other Conan Doyle material. The books are leather bound and in extremely good condition – beautifully tight binding with very good leather covers. Jack estimates they are worth about £20 each and would ideally like to sell them as a set. Anyone interested in purchasing these volumes should phone 07889 865882, or write to Jack Ryder Books, 10 Pike Street, Liskeard, Cornwall, PL14 3JE.

Books of Interest

Stefano Guerra, BSI, and Enrico Solito, BSI, have written a new book, The Adventures of Mary Morstan Watson, available both in Italian and English. The story is written from Mary's point of view, beginning with The Sign of Four as seen through her eyes, and unfolding through her subsequent adventures. Mary uses her own innate intelligence and techniques learned by observing Holmes at work to solve problems.

Clutches of a Fiend is the latest volume in the BSI Manuscripts series, being a facsimile of the original manuscript of The Illustrious Client. The volume is edited and features an introduction from Steven T. Doyle, BSI. A detailed account of the manuscript's history is included, as well as essays covering such themes as chronology, legal implications, sex and violence on screen, psychoanalysis and hypnosis.

Sherlock Holmes and the British Empire is a report of the BSI's Empire conference of July 2022. The volume is edited by Ross E. Davies, BSI, and provides a detailed record of all the presentations and programming, along with many colour photos.

A West Wind: How America and Americans Influenced the Sherlockian Canon is a volume of essays from the BSI providing an examination of the reciprocal impact and influence of American culture and history with Conan Doyle and the Canon. Topics discussed include criminal culture and law enforcement, the Civil War, and the legacy of Holmes in the entertainment industry. The volume is edited by Thomas Horrocks, Ph.D., BSI, and Ray Betzner, BSI.

Editor's Alternative Reading Recommendation

A series of stories exploring Holmes's tendency to not speak for stretches of time as an autistic response are available on the website Archive of Our Own <https://archiveofourown.org/series/3364168>. The series is sensitively written and comes highly recommended. The author is a BSL user, so the signs included are authentic.

Periodicals Received:

The Cri Bar Crier, January 2024, Volume 29, No. 2 (Newsletter of the Criterion Bar Association of Chicago, Ruth Goehmann; rjgoehmann@aol.com)

Papers On the Sundial, January 2024 and December 2023 (Wanda Dow; ha10tot@verizon.net)

Scuttlebutt from the Spermaceti Press, January 2024 (Peter Blau; <https://redcircledc.org/index.php?id=39>)

So Far Down Queer Street, Autumn 2023 (Inspector(ess); sofardownqueerstreet@gmail.com)

Timelines, January 2024 (Brad Keefauver; bkeefauver@gmail.com)

Holly Turner

THE NEWSLETTER OF THE SHERLOCK HOLMES SOCIETY OF LONDON

Holly Turner, 2 Castle Hill, Ebbesbourne Wake, Salisbury SP5 5JU

e-mail: district.messenger.shsl@gmail.com

No. 439 February 2024

As you will have seen from Catherine's announcement in January, Jean Upton has stepped down after six years as editor of this newsletter. Hers are big shoes to fill, and I will certainly try my best. I would like to thank Jean and Roger Johnson very much for all their help and guidance with getting set up. Please bear with me whilst I continue to get to grips with everything!

A gentle reminder that all members can now register themselves on the society's membership management system, Mycroft. This enables you to review and update your details, and even to add a photo to your profile if you so wish. If you have not already done so, you can join the platform by going to <https://members.sherlock-holmes.org.uk/login>.

The email subscription project Letters from Watson is covering the Sherlock Holmes novels this year. A Study in Scarlet started on 6th January and will run until 10th March. The Sign of Four will begin at the start of April. Emails consist of each chapter separately and are released every 4 days. You can subscribe to the mailing list at <https://lettersfromwatson.substack.com/>.

Kyle Gallagher's play The Man in the Shadows: An Original Telling of Sherlock Holmes will have its world premiere at the Halifax Playhouse in Halifax, West Yorkshire. Seven years into their partnership, Holmes and Watson learn about the Man in the Shadows. With help from Inspector Lestrade, they begin to unravel the mystery in front of them, fighting their own demons alongside the case. The play will be showing Monday 5th – Friday 9th February. You can find further information on their website <http://www.halifaxplayhouse.org.uk/>

The Baker Street Irregulars have made recordings of the BSI Trust Lectures available online for free. You can access the catalogue on their website <http://www.bsitrust.org/2023/12/bsi-trust-lectures.html>.

On 11th January the ACD Society presented its Annual Doylean Honors Awards at The Mysterious Bookshop in New York. Honours were presented in four categories – Scholarly Writing, Fiction and Poetry, Visual Arts, and Lifetime Service. The honourees in the Scholarly Writing category were Emily Alder for the article Arctic Ghosts: Whale Hunting and Haunting in Arthur Conan Doyle's "The Captain of the Pole-Star" in the Victorian Studies journal; Douglas Kerr for the article Arthur Conan Doyle, Eugenics, and the Hand of God in the Literature & History journal; and Sylvia A. Pamboukian for the chapter Dying Game: Unrepentant Outlaws in Christie

and Doyle in her book Agatha Christie and the Guilty Pleasure of Poison. In the Fiction and Poetry category, those honoured were Derrick Belanger for the short story The Joyce-Armstrong Confession in the Steel True, Blade Straight 2023 journal; David Marcum for the short story Fate's Brushes in the same publication; and Lee Murray for the short story Māoriland Blue in The Terror of Blue John Gap Project (ACD Society 2023). Vincent Mallié was honoured in the Visual Arts category for his illustrations in the graphic novel adaptation of The First Adventure of Sherlock Holmes: A Study in Scarlet. The recipient of the Lifetime Service award was Brian Pugh, author of, amongst other things, A Chronology of the Life of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle: May 22nd 1859 to July 7th 1930. Congratulations to all the honourees. You can view the entire ceremony on the Doings of Doyle YouTube channel, where the recording will be posted no later than 21st January.

Absentee bids are being accepted for a selection of Doyle-related lots at Potter & Potter Auctions in Chicago. The sale begins on 15th February. For more information, see their website.

<https://auctions.potterauctions.com/Catalog.aspx?auctionid=1174>

In other auction news, some items belonging to the late Douglas Wilmer are to be auctioned by Reeman Dansie, Colchester. Viewing commences 9th February, with the sale itself to be held over three days (13th – 14th February). Of particular interest to Society members is Lot 978, a collection of personal letters from HRH Charles III to Douglas Wilmer and his widow. There is no other information as yet as to which the other lots of interest will be. You can find more information by visiting their website.

<https://www.reemandansie.com/news-item/sherlock-holmes-returns/?pc=688>

Anyone looking for a knitting challenge might fancy having a go at this rather stylish Sherlock Holmes jumper. The featured motifs are all inspired by Holmes stories. The pattern is described as unisex.

https://www.ravelry.com/patterns/library/sherlock-holmes-sweater?set=&_rfoff=1

The podcast Sherlock & Co now has a Patreon, where it is possible to sign up to support them with monthly payments at three different tiers, giving a range of rewards. To find out more and to sign up, head to <https://www.patreon.com/sherlockandco>

A Sherlockian short film is being worked on by French director Nathan Bres. It is titled The Myth of Whitechapel and follows the origins of Sherlock Holmes and Dr Watson. As they lead their first investigation together, the difficulties they face in building their reputation as detectives bring them closer together. Taking place in Whitechapel in 1881, the story blurs the frontier between reality and the supernatural. The project is supported by the Société Sherlock Holmes de France and is currently seeking crowdfunding on Kickstarter at <https://www.kickstarter.com/projects/nathanbres/sherlock-holmes-the-myth-of-whitechapel-short-film>

Marcus Lynch is hoping to sell a number of bound issues of The Strand Magazine inherited from his grandfather. He says that the bindings are in pretty poor condition, but the pages inside are all very good, so this may be of particular interest to anyone who enjoys bookbinding. There are some Sherlock Holmes stories contained within the collection, and he believes these were published before Conan Doyle had a 'proper' book publishing contract. If interested, Mr Lynch can be contacted at mamlynch@mac.com

Sherlock Holmes and the Whitechapel Fiend is showing at Barn Theatre in Cirencester 29th January – 9th March. The play is described as 'a hilarious mix of Basil Rathbone, What We Do In The Shadows and The Thirty-Nine Steps, combined with the style of Netflix True Crime documentaries'. For more information and to book go to <https://barntheatre.org.uk/sherlock-holmes>

Kelvin Jones has passed on the news that his local antiquarian book dealer, Jack Ryder, has a complete set of the first 14 volumes of The Strand Magazine (1891 – 1897), containing the complete Adventures and Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes, as well as other Conan Doyle material. The books are leather bound and in extremely good condition – beautifully tight binding with very good leather covers. Jack estimates they are worth about £20 each and would ideally like to sell them as a set. Anyone interested in purchasing these volumes should phone 07889 865882, or write to Jack Ryder Books, 10 Pike Street, Liskeard, Cornwall, PL14 3JE.

Books of Interest

Stefano Guerra, BSI, and Enrico Solito, BSI, have written a new book, The Adventures of Mary Morstan Watson, available both in Italian and English. The story is written from Mary's point of view, beginning with The Sign of Four as seen through her eyes, and unfolding through her subsequent adventures. Mary uses her own innate intelligence and techniques learned by observing Holmes at work to solve problems.

Clutches of a Fiend is the latest volume in the BSI Manuscripts series, being a facsimile of the original manuscript of The Illustrious Client. The volume is edited and features an introduction from Steven T. Doyle, BSI. A detailed account of the manuscript's history is included, as well as essays covering such themes as chronology, legal implications, sex and violence on screen, psychoanalysis and hypnosis.

Sherlock Holmes and the British Empire is a report of the BSI's Empire conference of July 2022. The volume is edited by Ross E. Davies, BSI, and provides a detailed record of all the presentations and programming, along with many colour photos.

A West Wind: How America and Americans Influenced the Sherlockian Canon is a volume of essays from the BSI providing an examination of the reciprocal impact and influence of American culture and history with Conan Doyle and the Canon. Topics discussed include criminal culture and law enforcement, the Civil War, and the legacy of Holmes in the entertainment industry. The volume is edited by Thomas Horrocks, Ph.D., BSI, and Ray Betzner, BSI.

Editor's Alternative Reading Recommendation

A series of stories exploring Holmes's tendency to not speak for stretches of time as an autistic response are available on the website Archive of Our Own <https://archiveofourown.org/series/3364168>. The series is sensitively written and comes highly recommended. The author is a BSL user, so the signs included are authentic.

Periodicals Received:

The Cri Bar Crier, January 2024, Volume 29, No. 2 (Newsletter of the Criterion Bar Association of Chicago, Ruth Goehmann; rjgoehmann@aol.com)

Papers On the Sundial, January 2024 and December 2023 (Wanda Dow; ha10tot@verizon.net)

Scuttlebutt from the Spermaceti Press, January 2024 (Peter Blau; <https://redcircledc.org/index.php?id=39>)

So Far Down Queer Street, Autumn 2023 (Inspector(ess); sofardownqueerstreet@gmail.com)

Timelines, January 2024 (Brad Keefauver; bkeefauver@gmail.com)

Holly Turner

THE NEWSLETTER OF THE SHERLOCK HOLMES SOCIETY OF LONDON

Holly Turner, 2 Castle Hill, Ebbesbourne Wake, Salisbury SP5 5JU

e-mail: district.messenger.shsl@gmail.com

No. 439 February 2024

As you will have seen from Catherine's announcement in January, Jean Upton has stepped down after six years as editor of this newsletter. Hers are big shoes to fill, and I will certainly try my best. I would like to thank Jean and Roger Johnson very much for all their help and guidance with getting set up. Please bear with me whilst I continue to get to grips with everything!

A gentle reminder that all members can now register themselves on the society's membership management system, Mycroft. This enables you to review and update your details, and even to add a photo to your profile if you so wish. If you have not already done so, you can join the platform by going to <https://members.sherlock-holmes.org.uk/login>.

The email subscription project Letters from Watson is covering the Sherlock Holmes novels this year. A Study in Scarlet started on 6th January and will run until 10th March. The Sign of Four will begin at the start of April. Emails consist of each chapter separately and are released every 4 days. You can subscribe to the mailing list at <https://lettersfromwatson.substack.com/>.

Kyle Gallagher's play The Man in the Shadows: An Original Telling of Sherlock Holmes will have its world premiere at the Halifax Playhouse in Halifax, West Yorkshire. Seven years into their partnership, Holmes and Watson learn about the Man in the Shadows. With help from Inspector Lestrade, they begin to unravel the mystery in front of them, fighting their own demons alongside the case. The play will be showing Monday 5th – Friday 9th February. You can find further information on their website <http://www.halifaxplayhouse.org.uk/>

The Baker Street Irregulars have made recordings of the BSI Trust Lectures available online for free. You can access the catalogue on their website <http://www.bsitrust.org/2023/12/bsi-trust-lectures.html>.

On 11th January the ACD Society presented its Annual Doylean Honors Awards at The Mysterious Bookshop in New York. Honours were presented in four categories – Scholarly Writing, Fiction and Poetry, Visual Arts, and Lifetime Service. The honourees in the Scholarly Writing category were Emily Alder for the article Arctic Ghosts: Whale Hunting and Haunting in Arthur Conan Doyle's "The Captain of the Pole-Star" in the Victorian Studies journal; Douglas Kerr for the article Arthur Conan Doyle, Eugenics, and the Hand of God in the Literature & History journal; and Sylvia A. Pamboukian for the chapter Dying Game: Unrepentant Outlaws in Christie

and Doyle in her book Agatha Christie and the Guilty Pleasure of Poison. In the Fiction and Poetry category, those honoured were Derrick Belanger for the short story The Joyce-Armstrong Confession in the Steel True, Blade Straight 2023 journal; David Marcum for the short story Fate's Brushes in the same publication; and Lee Murray for the short story Māoriland Blue in The Terror of Blue John Gap Project (ACD Society 2023). Vincent Mallié was honoured in the Visual Arts category for his illustrations in the graphic novel adaptation of The First Adventure of Sherlock Holmes: A Study in Scarlet. The recipient of the Lifetime Service award was Brian Pugh, author of, amongst other things, A Chronology of the Life of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle: May 22nd 1859 to July 7th 1930. Congratulations to all the honourees. You can view the entire ceremony on the Doings of Doyle YouTube channel, where the recording will be posted no later than 21st January.

Absentee bids are being accepted for a selection of Doyle-related lots at Potter & Potter Auctions in Chicago. The sale begins on 15th February. For more information, see their website.

<https://auctions.potterauctions.com/Catalog.aspx?auctionid=1174>

In other auction news, some items belonging to the late Douglas Wilmer are to be auctioned by Reeman Dansie, Colchester. Viewing commences 9th February, with the sale itself to be held over three days (13th – 14th February). Of particular interest to Society members is Lot 978, a collection of personal letters from HRH Charles III to Douglas Wilmer and his widow. There is no other information as yet as to which the other lots of interest will be. You can find more information by visiting their website.

<https://www.reemandansie.com/news-item/sherlock-holmes-returns/?pc=688>

Anyone looking for a knitting challenge might fancy having a go at this rather stylish Sherlock Holmes jumper. The featured motifs are all inspired by Holmes stories. The pattern is described as unisex.

https://www.ravelry.com/patterns/library/sherlock-holmes-sweater?set=&_rfoff=1

The podcast Sherlock & Co now has a Patreon, where it is possible to sign up to support them with monthly payments at three different tiers, giving a range of rewards. To find out more and to sign up, head to <https://www.patreon.com/sherlockandco>

A Sherlockian short film is being worked on by French director Nathan Bres. It is titled The Myth of Whitechapel and follows the origins of Sherlock Holmes and Dr Watson. As they lead their first investigation together, the difficulties they face in building their reputation as detectives bring them closer together. Taking place in Whitechapel in 1881, the story blurs the frontier between reality and the supernatural. The project is supported by the Société Sherlock Holmes de France and is currently seeking crowdfunding on Kickstarter at <https://www.kickstarter.com/projects/nathanbres/sherlock-holmes-the-myth-of-whitechapel-short-film>

Marcus Lynch is hoping to sell a number of bound issues of The Strand Magazine inherited from his grandfather. He says that the bindings are in pretty poor condition, but the pages inside are all very good, so this may be of particular interest to anyone who enjoys bookbinding. There are some Sherlock Holmes stories contained within the collection, and he believes these were published before Conan Doyle had a 'proper' book publishing contract. If interested, Mr Lynch can be contacted at mamlynch@mac.com

Sherlock Holmes and the Whitechapel Fiend is showing at Barn Theatre in Cirencester 29th January – 9th March. The play is described as 'a hilarious mix of Basil Rathbone, What We Do In The Shadows and The Thirty-Nine Steps, combined with the style of Netflix True Crime documentaries'. For more information and to book go to <https://barntheatre.org.uk/sherlock-holmes>

Kelvin Jones has passed on the news that his local antiquarian book dealer, Jack Ryder, has a complete set of the first 14 volumes of The Strand Magazine (1891 – 1897), containing the complete Adventures and Memoirs of Sherlock Holmes, as well as other Conan Doyle material. The books are leather bound and in extremely good condition – beautifully tight binding with very good leather covers. Jack estimates they are worth about £20 each and would ideally like to sell them as a set. Anyone interested in purchasing these volumes should phone 07889 865882, or write to Jack Ryder Books, 10 Pike Street, Liskeard, Cornwall, PL14 3JE.

Books of Interest

Stefano Guerra, BSI, and Enrico Solito, BSI, have written a new book, The Adventures of Mary Morstan Watson, available both in Italian and English. The story is written from Mary's point of view, beginning with The Sign of Four as seen through her eyes, and unfolding through her subsequent adventures. Mary uses her own innate intelligence and techniques learned by observing Holmes at work to solve problems.

Clutches of a Fiend is the latest volume in the BSI Manuscripts series, being a facsimile of the original manuscript of The Illustrious Client. The volume is edited and features an introduction from Steven T. Doyle, BSI. A detailed account of the manuscript's history is included, as well as essays covering such themes as chronology, legal implications, sex and violence on screen, psychoanalysis and hypnosis.

Sherlock Holmes and the British Empire is a report of the BSI's Empire conference of July 2022. The volume is edited by Ross E. Davies, BSI, and provides a detailed record of all the presentations and programming, along with many colour photos.

A West Wind: How America and Americans Influenced the Sherlockian Canon is a volume of essays from the BSI providing an examination of the reciprocal impact and influence of American culture and history with Conan Doyle and the Canon. Topics discussed include criminal culture and law enforcement, the Civil War, and the legacy of Holmes in the entertainment industry. The volume is edited by Thomas Horrocks, Ph.D., BSI, and Ray Betzner, BSI.

Editor's Alternative Reading Recommendation

A series of stories exploring Holmes's tendency to not speak for stretches of time as an autistic response are available on the website Archive of Our Own <https://archiveofourown.org/series/3364168>. The series is sensitively written and comes highly recommended. The author is a BSL user, so the signs included are authentic.

Periodicals Received:

The Cri Bar Crier, January 2024, Volume 29, No. 2 (Newsletter of the Criterion Bar Association of Chicago, Ruth Goehmann; rjgoehmann@aol.com)

Papers On the Sundial, January 2024 and December 2023 (Wanda Dow; ha10tot@verizon.net)

Scuttlebutt from the Spermaceti Press, January 2024 (Peter Blau; <https://redcircledc.org/index.php?id=39>)

So Far Down Queer Street, Autumn 2023 (Inspector(ess); sofardownqueerstreet@gmail.com)

Timelines, January 2024 (Brad Keefauver; bkeefauver@gmail.com)

Holly Turner